bUnited.com since 2014 Review

The bUnited.com was a startup company in February 2014. The idea itself is great. Get paid to unite, but will it be realized as the creators have imagined we will see in the future.

Who is behind the bUnited.com?

Jim Jorgensen, Johannes Pohle, and Ozan Taner are founders of the bUnited.

Jim Jorgensen is an entrepreneur. He was quite busy in launching and running new businesses. Behind him are over 25 successful projects.

Johannes Pohle is an entrepreneur, experienced in building companies, Software engineer.

One of the latest projects was AllAdvantage.

AllAdvantage was an advertising company, and they get paid i.e. $100 - $160 million in cash to its members to surf the web.

AllAdvantage—an Internet intermediary community (Jorgensen was a co-founder and the CEO with co-founders Carl Anderson, Johannes Pohle and Oliver Brock[1]). The company had a meteoric rise and fall within a two-year period. Launched on March 30, 1999, within 12 months the company had:

- 13 million members.
- raised $175,000,000 in venture capital.[12]
- earned over $30 million in advertising sales,
- distributed over $100 million in cash distributions to its members,
- hired 850 employees, established 35 worldwide offices on four continents;
- established the world’s first Chief Privacy Officer,
Ozan Taner is an experienced business owner.

Moema Espresso is premium fair trade coffee company founded by Ozan Taner.

Where does that money come from?
The companies are paying Facebook, Google and others advertising companies, billions of dollars in advertising.

So the basic idea behind the bUnited.com, they will give You that money for advertising.

The money they save on advertising goes to promoters and that's where that money comes from.

Their plan is to sign up more companies.

They will be launching the website in various languages (Mandarin, French, Spanish) in the coming weeks.

For now their focus is on growing and reserving earnings and the part I like, they are doing something positive for the planet.

Withdraw so far depends on what country you are!

Currently they are active only in the United States and Brazil.

For every person you join you will get paid...but when?

“You lock-in your earnings now. You withdraw your earnings over time. Some people will be able to withdraw some earnings within 60 days. Most people will be able to withdraw some earnings later in 2019, and continue to get paid until they have received the full amount – it could take a couple of years.

Withdrawing earnings is based on when bUnited gets paid by companies giving discounts to bUnited members. This will vary by what country you are in, how fast the membership grows there, and the speed at which companies sign up.”

You will get paid is based on what country you are in, how fast the membership grows there, and the speed at which companies sign up.

Payments will be made available for withdrawal over time. The information will be made available when that happens.

Withdrawing earnings is based on when bUnited gets paid by partner companies giving discounts to bUnited members.

This will vary by what country you are in, how fast the membership grows there, and the speed at which companies sign up.

You can simply check your account page to know when you can withdraw some or all of your earnings.

Right now, all you have to do is invite your friends with your Referral ID. You lock in your earnings every time someone joins because of you.

You must invite people so you get paid for every person that joins because of you. The good news is...

...even when your friends’ friends join, you get paid too! Up to 5 degrees of separation!

They currently use PayPal, PagSeguro, WeChat, Alipay, PayTM, PhonePe, ACH, and SEPA bank transfers.

Conclusion => Join now, don’t hesitate!

The bUnited is a legit company. They are registered with the Secretary of State in California (U.S.A.) to conduct legitimate business. As we unite, they grow and are able to get us discounts with big companies.

bUnited is all about growing so far. To have the products on a lowest price, they have to become big enough to be important to companies.

Their first big success is Vodafone. They have already signed up with Europes second large phone company.

Helping grow their membership, we help get more discounts for the membership, help the environment and get paid to do it.

The bUnited has the power to make our world more sustainable. Not just green washing, real substantial changes.

And the great thing is that bUnited pays everyone to unite. Very innovative.
